

Transoft Solutions' Software Chosen by 97 of the Top 100 AEC Firms

Superior Product Development and Service at the Core of Success with Top Firms

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

September 25, 2009 – Vancouver, BC, Canada

Transoft Solutions, developers of industry leading software for the engineering and architectural communities worldwide, announces that an internal review of its client database has revealed that 97 of Engineering News Record's top 100 AEC firms - based on transportation revenue - are currently users of its software. Additionally, of those 97 top firms, more than 75% hold licenses for two or more Transoft Solutions products.

"We congratulate all of the firms that made ENR's list on all of their success and we're excited to continue to work with the firms that were listed in the top 100 as well as those on their way up," comments Marketing and Sales Vice-President, Noel Dolotallas. "It's a testament to our commitment to developing superior engineering software and delivering unsurpassed service that these firms have chosen our products."

The Top 100 is a part of ENR's Top 500 Design Firms list, published annually, which ranks both publically and privately held firms from around the world. To view the list in its entirety, please visit Engineering News Record's website.
